Learn About...

- 38% Silver Diamine Fluoride (SDF) – The only oral care medication to receive FDA breakthrough therapy designation - October 2016
 - New D1354 Code – interim caries arresting medicament application will change from per application to per tooth January 1, 2018
 - SDF does not stain sound dentin or enamel
 - SDF will disclose and stain demineralization and caries
 - Kills bacteria and prevents cariogenic biofilm formation
 - Treat up to five sites with a single drop of SDF
 - Arrested SDF lesions act as a reservoir that protects other teeth
 - SDF outperforms varnish for prevention in both children and adults
 - May be used as an indirect pulp cap
 - Discloses and can arrest incipient “watch” spots
 - Arrested lesions may be restored without anesthetic or excavation
 - New silver modified atraumatic restorative techniques (SMART)
 - No adverse events reported in U.S. (2+ yrs.) or Japan (50+ yrs.)
 - Will explain CDT codes: D1354 – interim caries arresting medicament application, D1208 – topical application of fluoride, excluding varnish and D9910 – application of a desensitizing medicament
